

'putoh' is a combined word between Pluto and Baan Yang Pu Toh, located at Chiang Dao. At first, it was built to be a stargazing area, but now it has been changed to be an exquisite villa surrounded by the beauty of nature.

'Chai Lai Orchid' is more than just a well-decorated villa among the nature of Mae Sa Pok, Chiang Mai. you will find tons of activities here to participate in such as forest trail, rafting, weaving, and S'Gaw community sightseeing.

A morning market surrounded by shady trees combines organic products from the local producers here together. Handmade goods and home cooked foods with a strong identity of Chiang Mai are also sold here.

'Taryn Tara Cafe and Stay' offers serene views from an old wooden house to a renovated villa. Experience calming streams and mountain vistas, perfect for rejuvenation and embracing nature's gifts.

'Mitt Studio' is proud to present Local Craft Workshop in a contemporary practice for everyone to learn about Northern culture from handicrafts.

'Kalm Village' is a place for people to come and learn about arts, cultures, and handicrafts of Thailand and Asia, for both old-fashioned and modern practices through 8 houses with different stories in each.

'Bella Nara Hotel' is one of the top-notch hotels decorated in colonial style design, The multi-cultural mix between east, west, and local northern vibe co-designed by a National Artist in Visual Arts.

Tao Cha, a tea café, and a restaurant called Poliang Bistro. From authentic Northern dish to the Lanna-British menu. They also renovate 6 rooms into Kaomai Heritage style, where you will surely have a good time.

Bo Kaeo Silvicultural Research Station, you will get to learn and plant mountain pine, arranged by the Department of National Parks, Wildlife, and Plant Conservation from several countries.

Queen Sirikit Botanic Garden

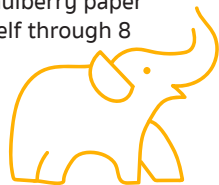

'Queen Sirikit Botanic Garden' is a major hub to display a vast collection of plants from different climates around the world. Endangered plants are carefully grown to be preserved in the future.

Elephant POOPOOPAPER Park

'Elephant POOPOOPAPER Park' where you will get to make an eco-friendly mulberry paper from elephant dung by yourself through 8 stations.

www.amazingthailand.hk

Cham Cha Market

'Cham Cha Market' is a craft market opening for 7 years so far. There is a lot of products selling here such as authentic handcrafts, modern handcrafts, and several of northern-style products. More importantly, they are all handmade by the locals.

Withilarb Charoenmuang

'Jom Kwai' which is a buffalo meat poached in chili soup. Having together with local vegetables, you will find a mouthwatering taste you have never tried before.

7Mohng

'7Mohng' serves delicious Thai and European dishes from 07.00 a.m. daily, including Chinese Roll Noodle Soup and Pasta. Experience authentic flavors in a cozy atmosphere with stunning views. Feel at home and enjoy breakfast with ease.

www.facebook.com/TAT.HongKong

Din Cafe

'Din Cafe' serves delicious menus such as homemade pizza made from homemade dough, baked in a self-made clay oven. For the coffee, there are 3 signature menus which are Clay, Terra Cotta, and Din Chee (or pottery in Northern Thai dialect)

Magokoro Teahouse

The core values of 'Magokoro Teahouse' are body, soul, space, and time as 4 of them combined can be compared to the Japanese tea ceremony.

NOIR / cmi

'NOIR / cmi' is the place only aims to be a jukebox for 50s - 60s jazz music and a playground for talented artists to show off. This is a secret lab for the owner to innovate new creative drink menus.

Fleur Cafe & Eatery

'Fleur Cafe & Eatery' is a café and restaurant to make you feel like home with warm vibe and service. Plenty of spaces for parents to chill, for kids to play, and wheelchair-friendly area for the elderly to enjoy.

Our Wine Club

'Our Wine Club' starting by transforming an old building into a lively bar on Tha Pae road. Our Wine Club serves premium-grade wines just like the ones in 5-star hotels and Michelin-starred restaurants, but in an affordable price.

Thingamajiggy Coffee Roaster

The coffee shop in a small wooden house is inspired by the traditional rice barns used by local villagers. The menus are varied such as coffee, tea, smoothie, and homemade dessert in cheap price.